SUCCESS ALREADY ASSURED

NEVER DID RACING IN KENTUCKY PRESENT MORE PROMISING ASPECT.

Preparations for Meetings Practically Completed Far in Advance—Budget of Gossip from Kentucky Sources.

Louisville, Ky., September 7.—There never has been a fall meeting at Churchill Downs the success of which was assured so far ahead of the opening day—October 1—as the coming nineteen-days session. Though more than three weeks distant, the meeting seems to be at a point that needs only starter Mars Cassidy to call the horses to the post. It is one meeting which calls for little in the way of preliminary labor, as the great horses that have been nominated in the ten stakes would make a successful race meeting anywhere.

Secretary Lyman H. Davis has everything at both tracks in perfect appointment for the arrival of horses, which are coming almost hourly now. Every stall at the Downs and at Douglas Park has been disinfected and any improvements that are necessary to be made in the stables can be completed within a brief time. Secretary Davis' reason for scattering the disinfectant so profusely over the enclosures is to avert the introduction of any disease, as among the hundreds of horses now at the two courses there is not at this time a single sick thoroughbred.

Though the meeting is three weeks away, already rooms and apartments are being engaged in the principal hotels of the city by horsemen, and the demand for such quarters is said to be even greater this fall than during the meeting last spring.

F. J. Pons, the Florida racing magnate, is here conferring with trainer W. C. Westmoreland, who has charge of his string at Douglas Park. Mr. Pons came from Windsor and states that his horses that have been in training in Canada in charge of Ed Trotter, consisting of Rockcastle, Tony Bonero, Abrasion, Louis des Cognets, Dolly Bultman and Lady Ormican, would reach Louisville tomorrow. With trainer Trotter will come Lon Johnson, who has the two-year-olds Bad News II. and Huxter. Mr. Johnson recently sold Tom Hayward to J. W. Schorr. Mr. Pons also sold one horse in his Canadian string to James Arthur. Mr. Pons officially announces that Joseph A. Murphy will preside in the judge's stand next winter at Jacksonville and that P. A. Brady will be his associate. Mr. Pons has in his possession authority from the Jockey Club at New York to conduct a meeting for the Southern Maryland Racing Association at Marlboro, August Belmont assured him that if the property should be improved and a mile track built for next season the number of racing dates would be increased to fifteen days.

Arrivals today at Churchill Downs included the stables of Pat Knebelkamp and John Walters. Mr. Knebelkamp brought St. Harlo and Molly Mog. He has sold Lily Paxton. Mr. Walters has Melvor and six others.

Col. M. J. Winn, general manager of the New Louisville Jockey Club, arrived here today after a sojourn at Saratoga and Thousand Islands. His vacation worked wonders with him and he is in fine condition to plunge into the management of the fifteen-days fall meeting which opens October 1 at Churchill Downs. He says that the greatest race season in New York and Canada will be here. S. C. Hildreth has assured him that his stable will be sent from Canada to Louisville and Colonel Winn says that many notable eastern turfmen will be here to attend the fall races.

Miller Henderson brought twelve horses from Saratoga to Churchill Downs, including St. Harlo, Star, Captain Morris and Outpost, and the two-year-olds Lavender Lad, Star Blaze, Albert Wolf, Dr. Bodine, Colonel Hogan, Ed Morgan and Mrs. F. G. Hogan. J. H. Reed was the stable's only eastern winner, the two-year-olds in the string being sick and out of commission all season. Will McDaniel took Sorroful, Placide and Frank G. Hogan to Lexington with his stable when Latonia closed and he will probably transfer this trio to trainer Henderson's care when he comes here to race his stable. It is understood that the Henderson & Hogan string will race in Mexico the coming winter. A number of horses owned by this firm were campaigned by trainer Henderson in Jacksonville, Fla., last winter with fair success. The rest of the string were cared for here by trainer Louis Tauber. The latter has quit the turf for a time, being now the manager of the Hopkins Theater in this city.

Trainer Fred Luzader is back at Churchill Downs after a flying visit to J. R. Wainwright at West Baden. While in the east trainer Luzader had Short Order gelded, and the son of Sir Dixon now seems much improved. In the last few days he has had such good reports from the La Belle Farm at Lexington in regard to the superb condition of Dr. Wadso Briggs, Spooner and Bon Ton, the trio which he turned out last spring, that he has now concluded to take them up and begin training them again when he goes to Lexington. He understands that Dr. Wadso Briggs is entirely over his navicular trouble, while Spooner and Bon Ton are in fine fix, seemingly sound in wind and limb. As a little diversion, Luzader will run one or two members of his stable in the state fair races next week, and has consented to permit the two jockeys of the Wainwright stable, N. Kennedy and H. Jones, to take mounts.

A. F. Dayton, whose stable has arrived at Douglas Park from Latonia, is still confined in a hospital at Upland, O., in which he was placed during the late summer meeting at Latonia. Mr. Dayton was on his way to the Kenton County track from Canada when his train was wrecked and he came near losing his life. His injuries were severe and have kept him in the hospital two months. He hopes, however, to be able to get here to see his horses race during the coming fall meeting. One of the horses he owns is the noted Jack Nunnally, which is looking unusually well this fall.

Col. W. E. Applegate has concluded to keep Round the World in training the coming winter. She will not be raced to any extent during the first four months of 1911, but will be given a careful preparation for the Kentucky Derby and Oaks, in both of which events she is engaged. Her owners believe she will break the traditions of the past by winning the Derby, a feat to the credit of no other filly in the history of that great race.

John W. Schorr, who had booked twenty-two horses with Secretary Lyman H. Davis for stall room at Churchill Downs, has countermanded the order. He wrote that he had decided to ship his string to Fort Erie and would not come here at the opening of the meeting on October 1. He expects, however, to race out the last ten days of the fall meeting here with his big stable and then go to Latonia for the fall meeting at the Kenton County track.

Trainer William Grater will put a race into Lexington at the state fair and then go to Lexington with the son of Lissak. Lexington is training this fall as satisfactorily as any horse at the local tracks.

Jockey T. Koerner came west with his contract employer, Wayne Joplin, and will rest here until the fall meeting at Lexington begins, though he may ride in a race or two at the state fair next week.

EIGHT VETERAN WINNERS OF MORE THAN $30,000 AND LESS THAN $40,000

There are eight veterans of the track that have taken part in racing this year which, in the course of their careers, have won more than $30,000 each and less than $40,000. Of these the one that has come nearest to winning $40,000 is the fast horse, De Mund, frequently, but unjustly, called a "gold brick," because P. J. Rainey gave $45,000 for him under the impression that he was a better racer than he subsequently turned out to be. High prices have frequently been paid for yearlings and two-year-olds that were much more conspicuously failures in racing, with little said about their delinquency. De Mund proved a non-starter, but as a sprinter he was of high class and, while he did not directly win back his purchase price, there is no doubt that he more than did it in the way of substantial backing in his successful races.

Next to De Mund in total earnings is the old gelding, Jacobite. Running as the property of Sydney Paget, Jacobite was a cracking good two-year-old and as winner of the Hudson Stakes, Foam Stakes, Dash Stakes, Creedmoor Stakes, Remsen Handicap and Cutchogue Handicap, besides purse races, deservedly ranked high among the two-year-olds of 1905. Although he did not afterwards run up to his promise of that year, he has always been a useful race horse and is still able to go some.

Grenade, a horse of varied career, is third in this list. When a younger horse than now Grenade was not considered a sprinter and for the New York tracks was as likely to win at a mile and an eighth or a sixteenth as any of the high-class horses formerly raced there as selling platers when really good handicaps. Of late years, however, he has only been successful over short distances, but has always more than paid his way. He won the Rancho del Paso Stakes at Morris Park when a two-year-old, the Fairview Stakes at the same track when a three-year-old and when a four-year-old won the Flushing Stakes and Garden City Stakes for James H. McCormick. The next year he won the Corona Stakes at Jamaica, but the great bulk of his racing was for purses and, considering the large sum to his credit, it is apparent that a busy career was required to amass it.

Corrigan is old enough to be ashamed of his owners for requiring him to be still engaged in racing, but he is still able to run fairly well. Corrigan was a crack in California racing in 1901-02 and winner of the Colts Second Trial Stakes, Great Trial Stakes and Western Foal Stakes as a two-year-old. He came on to Chicago when a three-year-old and won numerous purses at Washington Park, Harlem and Hawthorne, as well as the Autumn Stakes at the latter track, then was taken back to California and won the Opening Handicap on the first day of the Oakland meeting, following this up with several other victories. Four years later he again won the Opening Handicap and is the only double winner of that formerly important event. For Burns & Waterhouse Corrigan also won the Waterhouse Cup, New Year Handicap and many other races and was, when in his prime, a thoroughly good race horse, fast, game and a stayer.

Thomas C. McDowell's fine mare, King's Daughter, is fifth in this list and she was never better than in the spring and early summer of this year, when she was almost an invincible at Louisville and Latonia. Unluckily she did not travel well for some reason and ran far below her western form after being taken east last July. But in other years she has made her mark in eastern racing as well as in the west and is known to all conversant with the merits of the horses of the last half dozen years as a high-class and speedy mare and a remarkably good weight carrier. Ornament has sired many excellent racers of both sexes, but it is probable that she will always rank as his best daughter.

One of Hamburg's good sons comes next to King's Daughter. Juggler has not distinguished himself this year because his natural speed is abating, but in years not far away he is a rapid-going horse, dangerous in any but the very highest classes. Winner of the valuable Autumn Stakes when a two-year-old, he was a hardy and often-winning campaigner in all succeeding years up to 1910 and may do something in the fall and winter racing suggestive of his former prowess on the track.

Pretension is English bred and was imported to this country as a foal. He was a very fast horse when at his best and won many races in good company for Chinn & Forsythe. He was campaigned from New York to San Francisco and made good as frequently as any horse of his class could be expected to.

Belmore was third to Ormondale and Timber for the Futurity of 1905 and in 1906 won the Brooklyn Derby, Larchmont Stakes, Buffalo Derby, Pierrepont Handicap and the Crescent City Inaugural Handicap, achieving a more than respectable position among the three-year-olds of that year. He was lame and unable to race as a four-year-old, but came back in 1908 and had a very successful year. At present he shows the effects of years, but it is not improbable that he may prove an occasional winner at Oakland next winter. The records of the eight good horses named are as follows:

THIRTY LEADING MONEY-WINNING OWNERS OF 1910

Last year, for the first time in his life, Samuel C. Hildreth was the leading American winning owner. He is again beyond possibility of displacement occupying the same proud position as a turfman. He is now only $12,427 behind his total of last year and, with the Canadian circuit, Kentucky tracks, Pimlico and the winter tracks remaining for his powerful stable to extract more money from, is almost sure to win more than the sum named before 1910 passes. The former leader for a number of years, James R. Keene is second to Hildreth and is likely to remain there, although it is not impossible for R. T. Wilson, Jr., to supplant him. The latter has had a prosperous year and is now safely third. R. F. Carman and August Belmont are fourth and fifth respectively with totals of stable earnings far in excess of those to their credit in 1909. The thirty leaders of the year, their stable earnings to date and their total stable earnings of 1909 are as follows:

LATONIA'S STAKE ARRAY

BEST RACERS IN TRAINING IN THIS COUNTRY AMONG THE ELIGIBLES.

Manager Hachmeister Elated Over Splendid Showing Made and Promising Prospects for Approaching Meeting at the Kenton County Track.

Cincinnati, O., September 7.—John Hachmeister, manager of the Latonia track, is elated over the splendid showing made on stake entries for the forthcoming fall meeting at Latonia. In an interview for publication he said:

"The character of the owners and the class of horses represented in the Latonia fall stakes will bear out the statement made some time ago that the racing at Cincinnati's favorite course will be the best that has been seen in this vicinity. With good horses, watchful officials and a splendid starter like Mars Cassidy, the sport will certainly be of exceptionally high class. A glance at the entries to the handicaps makes it almost a certainty that a good-sized field will contest in each event. The book for the overnight races will be issued shortly and it is our aim to have as much racing over a considerable distance of ground as possible."

Entries for the $2,000 Inaugural Handicap, one mile and an eighth, to be run on the opening day, have been tabulated, and it will give one a fair idea of the caliber of the material named for all the stake events. The entries for the race are:

R. H. Anderson, Joe Morris; Ed Alvey, Pinkola and Friend Harry; A. Baker, Jeff Bernstein; August Belmont, Priscillian; E. R. Bradley, Helmet; H. R. Brandt, Harrigan; C. D. Chenault, Milton B.; W. The Rosedale Selling Stakes, $1,200, at five and a half furlongs, drew sixty-three nominations. Among the prominent ones entered are Zeus, Royal Meteor, Kormak, Dartworth, Danger Mark, Silver Brush, Miss Nett, Premier, Helene, Ben Lasca, John Pendergrass and Melvor.

The Fort Thomas Stakes, value $1,500, handicap for two-year-olds at three-quarters of a mile, has sixty nominations.
